

HAMPTON, PHOEBUS AND OLD POINT.

MR. ASHBY SPEAKS HERE

Candidate for Senate Talked to Small Crowd.

DISCUSSED SENATOR HOLT'S RECORD

Criticized Him for Voting Against Number of Measures, as Well as for Bill to Give Courts Powers to Appoint Revenue Commissioners.

Mr. C. Aylett Ashby, who is a candidate for the state senate, last night addressed a small crowd in the Hampton courthouse in the interest of his candidacy. Mr. Ashby spoke for two hours and he digested the record of his opponent, Hon. Saxon W. Holt, criticizing him for his attitude on several important issues.

Mr. John Wymouth presided and introduced the speaker. There were probably fifty voters in the courthouse.

Mr. Ashby criticized Senator Holt for voting for the bill giving the courts the power to appoint commissioners of the revenues; for voting against the bill to keep up the Confederate graves; for voting against the bills appropriating money for the Farmville Normal School and the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, and for voting for the measure increasing the pay of the members of the legislature.

Mr. Ashby also paid his respects to the Court of Appeals and incidentally touched upon the general government of the State of Virginia.

Mr. Ashby is always an interesting talker and his address last night was listened to with deep earnestness by those in his audience.

A brass band was in attendance and paraded the streets for thirty minutes before the hour of the speaking.

Jumped into the Waters of Hampton Creek and Saved Miss Mildred Lee from Drowning.

Little Miss Frances Cabell, the daughter of Dr. B. W. Cabell, proved herself a heroine yesterday afternoon by jumping into Hampton creek and rescuing little Miss Mildred Lee, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lee.

The two little girls were rowing in a boat in Hampton creek, when Miss Lee slipped and fell headlong overboard into the water, which was probably four feet deep. Without the slightest hesitancy Miss Cabell plunged in after her companion and succeeded in holding her up until assistance reached them.

As the result of the accident the two little ladies were given a severe fright and a thorough drenching, although neither will suffer any serious consequences therefrom.

SPAIN HAS NEW PRINCE

Birth of Royal Infant Unexpected But Received with Joy.

MANY GUNS SALUTE NEXT KING

Holiday is Declared—Hoisting of Flag Over Palace Announced the Arrival of Heir to Spanish Throne at 1 O'clock Yesterday Afternoon.

(By Associated Press.)

MADRID, SPAIN, May 10.—The royal flag of Spain floats over the Royal Palace today, and every true Spaniard, who has gazed on that symbol of power, has emitted a hearty cheer. For that flag, flying from the Punta Del-Diamante is the signal to the nation that a Prince of Asturias, and heir to the Spanish throne, has been born. Madrid is wild with joy.

The royal infant was born shortly before 1 o'clock, and inside of five minutes all Madrid knew of the arrival of a future king.

The news was flashed immediately all over Spain, and the announcement was received with the greatest rejoicing. As the royal flag was sent flying to the top of the palace, the guns in the fortress began to boom as salute to the new monarch.

With breathless interest the populace counted the reports. On them depended the answer to the question which has been agitating all Spain for weeks—is it a boy or girl?

A Prince's Salute.

Even the cheers which had resounded through the streets in echo of the cannons booming died out as the guns counted thirteen, fourteen, fifteen. There was a moment of suspense—then, with a sixteenth round, there was a mighty shout that drowned out every other sound. Through all the streets it echoed. For it was a boy. Again and again the cannon boomed until twenty-one rounds had been fired, but the balance of the salute was lost and forgotten.

Had the royal child been an Infanta only fifteen guns would have announced the event. But for a prince the customary salute of twenty-one guns was fired.

Shortly before noon Dr. Glendonning, Queen Victoria's English physician, and Professor Gutierrez, the Spanish doctor, announced the close proximity of the long expected event. Messages were at once sent to those directed by the decree to be in attendance, and there was a wild rush to the palace. For half an hour there was a steady stream of carriages and automobiles which gave the first clew to the waiting crowd outside.

Mother and Babe.

Dressed in full robes of state all the dignitaries of the Church and State were at once ushered to the Queen's apartments. In an ante-room they awaited the announcement that an heir to the throne had been born.

Queen Victoria, who had enjoyed perfect health even until early today, stood her ordeal with great courage. The physicians reported that both the Queen and Prince were doing well.

Upon the birth of the Prince Professor Gutierrez turned to King Alfonso and announced: "Senor, the successor to the crown of Spain is the Prince of Asturias." Immediately a messenger bore the news to the dignitaries in the ante-room. A moment later the royal flag was fluttering from the palace and the guns began booming their salute.

Be Named Alfonso.

The royal baby has been named Alfonso and will be so christened. As soon as the royal child could be dressed it was placed in a little basket upon a golden salver. Bearing his precious burden King Alfonso approached the Prime Minister, to whom the child was presented. Official announcement of the infant's sex was made by this official. In the presence of court dignitaries, and the attending ambassadors, Alfonso shortly afterward publicly proclaimed his successor and announced that his title will be Prince of Asturias.

MRS. W. L. CHITUM DIES SUDDENLY IN FRANKLIN

Left Hampton Thursday Morning to Visit Her Father and Passed away Shortly after Reaching There.

Mr. W. L. Chittum, one of the best known conductors on the street railway line, yesterday morning received a telegram informing him of the sudden death of his wife, which occurred in Franklin Thursday night.

Mrs. Chittum, who was about 28 years old, left Hampton early Thursday morning for Franklin, where she expected to visit her father, and the news of her death came as a great shock and surprise to her husband and friends. The telegram merely conveyed the intelligence that Mrs. Chittum died suddenly Thursday night.

Mr. Chittum left at noon yesterday for Franklin to attend the funeral services.

FOX HILL NOTES.

Mrs. John W. Lewis died here yesterday at 3:30 p. m., and was buried this afternoon from the Methodist church, of which she had been an honored member for years. Death came suddenly. She was ill only three days, but was a great sufferer in that time. Mrs. Lewis was well known and beloved by all the Fox Hill people. She had lived the fifty-two years of her life in this section. She was the daughter of the late Thomas Guy, of Elizabeth City county. About twenty-two years ago she married John W. Lewis and their union was a very happy one. She leaves her husband and several children to mourn her loss; two sisters, Mrs. Caddie Goin, of Fox Hill, and Mrs. Margie Giddings, of Phoebus; also one brother, George Guy. Her pastor, Rev. J. O. Babcock, conducted the funeral services, which was largely attended, and in tender, loving words paid a most excellent tribute to her worth as a christian.
